

Natalia Lobanov

University professor, doctor habilitat

*Office hours at the International Business Department
(office 716, block B)
Tuesday 13.00-14.00
Thursday 9.30-10.30*

- Member of the ASEM Methodological and Scientific Council;
- Chair of the Methodological Commission of the International Economic Relations faculty.

Between 2010-2018:

- Member of ASEM Senate;
- Member of the Expert Commission Economy 1 within the National Council for Accreditation and Attestation.

Cursuri

Over the last 5 years, Dr. Lobanov held lectures and seminars on the following subjects:

1st Cycle, Bachelor's degree: World Economy and European Integration, Foreign Trade Techniques, Economic Integration and European Economy, World Economy. Languages - Romanian, Russian, French.

2nd Cycle, Master's degree: International Commercial Transactions (in Romanian).

Research themes:

- International commercial transactions in conditions of economic globalization.
- Tendencies, problems and perspectives of regional economic integration.
- The dimensions and destinations of international outsourcing.
- Enlargement of the European Union: Opportunities for the Republic of Moldova.

Professional training:

1998 Pierre Mendès-France University, Grenoble, France;

2000 University of Rennes 1, France;

2004 Bucharest Academy of Economic Studies;

2010 National School of Political and Administrative Studies, University of Bucharest, Bucharest Academy of Economic Studies, „Alexandru Ioan Cuza” University of Iași, Babeș-Bolyai University in Cluj-Napoca and University of Oradea;

2011 National School of Political and Administrative Studies, Bucharest

2014 Professional placement at Zorile S.A.;

2018 Professional placement at the commercial bank FinComBank.

Author of over 120 scientific and methodological-didactic works, including 3 monographs, 3 textbooks (coordinator/contributor), 5 university courses.